PRESIDENT'S LETTER

It is my distinct privilege to work with other SMGA volunteers and staff supporting our wounded warriors in their recovery – one fairway at a time.

I want to take a moment and thank all of you who joined me this year in this great cause. I also want to bring you up to speed on SMGA, our 2012 successes and our exciting plans for 2013.

2012 was a year of resounding success. Bittersweet in that we saw our warrior friends depart for their home stations after attending our program activities in Maryland, New York, Virginia, Massachusetts and Texas. Yet also rewarding in knowing we've created "golfers for life" as we strive to support these American heroes as they return home after treatment at military hospitals.

In 2012 we increased our program activities by holding dozens of instructional golf clinics and arranging for over 100 golfing opportunities for our SMGA members. This was made possible by generous donations by our SMGA patrons who provided us nearly half a million dollars in funding. This influx of funds allowed us to distribute over 150 sets of brand new TaylorMade golf clubs, the purchase of specialized electric golf carts and associated trailers to haul them to area golf events. Teaming with Disabled Sports USA/Warfighter Sports also allowed us to extend our support to our warrior golfers.

Just a few golf trip highlights for warriors included the Masters golf tournament in Augusta, Georgia; Hootie & the Blowfish/Darius Rucker's Monday After The Masters in Myrtle Beach; as well as the Bush Foundation's 2nd Annual US Wounded Warrior Open in Dallas. Booz Allen Hamilton, a large federal systems integrator corporation, also arranged for series of golf outings to benefit SMGA with simultaneous golf tournaments held around the country in August 2012.

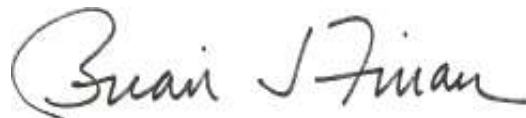

Another wonderful program we support is the Golf Channel Amateur Tour where SMGA funds warriors from around the country to play in local events to win prizes and more importantly use the healing benefits of golf as part of their continuing recovery.

In mid 2012 we welcomed our first full time SMGA staff member with the hiring of Ms. Gretchen Hamm as our Executive Director. In January 2013 we welcomed our second fulltime employee, Ms. Stephanie Lundy supporting operations and communications.

2013 started off with a bang as the PGA Tour's Web.Com Program selected SMGA as the chief beneficiary of the proceeds from the Mid Atlantic Championship being held at TPC Potomac, Potomac, Maryland over the 2013 Memorial Day Weekend.

Please visit us at www.smga.org to see the full range of activities planned for 2013 and how you can help us assist our American heroes recover from service connected injuries, both visible and invisible. Donations to our web site are warmly welcomed and recognized.

Yours In Service,

Brian J. Finan, (US Army, retired-DAV)
President, Salute Military Golf Association

OUR PROGRAMS

Learning and playing the game of golf alongside their brothers and sisters in arms, helps to facilitate the healing process as well as build relationships that continue beyond the hospital, past the golf course and throughout their lives. Our programs strive to be a powerful reminder of the many possibilities and opportunities that will continue to lie ahead for wounded warriors.

Golf for Life Clinics are designed for wounded warriors who are in the midst of their transition time from the hospital to home-life. Our clinics are embodied with dignity, respect and empowerment. Clinics consist of eight weeks of two hour golf instruction followed by lunch, they generally take place in the spring and fall. Our clinics are family inclusive and include childcare. Each golfer receives an SMGA logo golf shirt, hat and glove. Warrior golfers who are eligible and qualify by attending six of the eight weeks are equipped with custom fitted golf clubs to help them in furthering their golf game.

An American Golfer Program has filled the need for our wounded warriors who are not close to a wounded warrior population, but are still turning to the game of golf to enhance their life and continue in their recovery process. SMGA will work with the wounded warrior and their family to help locate a golf course and a golf pro that will host them. An American Golfer Program provides golf clubs, course access and five private lessons from a golf pro for the wounded warrior.

FINANCE NOTES

SMGA continues to enjoy strong financial support for our golf related rehabilitative program activities. An audit of our 2011 financials showed a very low overhead rate of 7% and nearly a 93% program contribution rate - a terrific level that sets us up for our application to the Combined Federal Campaign. We intend to continue to spend your contributions in a judicious fashion for the maximum benefit of our wounded warrior golfers.

We received over $500,000 in revenue from a variety of sources. Our largest income source again this year was from our own SMGA 6th Annual Golf Tournament that raised nearly $100,000 while other tournaments from partners yielded $107,000. Corporate donations including TaylorMade of $70,000, Kearney Associates for $30,000 and the Rosner Automotive Group for $25,000 were typical proponents investing in our mission and vision. The US Senior PGA Association also provided us a grant to help us purchase a new ParaGolfer cart.

We have invested in full time staff to help better organize our program offerings and to develop other revenue sources from grants and funding request applications. Additional expenses included $100,000 for golf clubs and golf related opportunities for our wounded warrior golfers. $78,000 was devoted to nationwide golf instruction for both clinic and private purposes. The SMGA spent $48,000 on golf apparel including shirts, hats, gloves, and shoes (warrior golfers need to look good!).

THANK YOU TO ALL OF OUR DONORS!

Join the Advisory Board

In addition to our 15 member volunteer governing Board of Directors, last year SMGA established a volunteer Advisory Board to help us develop our program nationally. The Advisory Board is made up of volunteers who have keen insights into how golf can be used as a rehabilitation sport and expertise on how we can engage other partners and groups to improve on our chances for nationwide program expansion success. We are open to the Advisory Board and ask that if you are interested to please contact us.
